General information about the invite system for the Nasmans Plex-server

- Introduction
- Usage

Introduction

Recently, I started using an application called Wizarr for Plex-server invitations. It saves me some time, and should walk you through the whole process.

You can access Wizarr by clicking the button on Nasmans Dashboard, going to <https://invite.nasmans.nl> or clicking here.

Usage

Well, this should be pretty self-explanatory, but just in case here's a quick overview. You should have received an invite link/code directly from me. It should look like this:

<https://invite.nasmans.nl/i/<six-letter-code>>

You should be able to just press the link and you should be ushered through the signup process automatically. If not, you can just enter your six letter invite code on the Nasmans Invites home page.

The signup process should be pretty painless. If everything goes alright you just have to keep pressing "Next" or "Save" and give the settings a once-over. At the end of the process, everything should be basically set up. I do recommend you read the "General Information Plex"-pages on this Wiki.
