Goodreads Integration & "Wishlist"

As mentioned before, the toolstack consists of multiple tools. The beauty of this is that it's possible to automate a lot of things. One of these things is automatically (mostly) downloading requested releases. As there is no such thing as an integrated request-platform in Calibre-Web, Readarr provided an option.

It's possible to import different kinds of 'lists' from Goodreads. Due to import constraints, the only options I will accept for now is a Goodreads Listopia Lists and Goodreads Series. If you wish to add your list/series send me a message with your respective list-/series-ID. Again, other lists WILL NOT be accepted, as they need account credentials and I will not go through this amount of trouble to add an import list.
